

EYEBALL SEASON

DOOR
1

The Boiled One loves autumn. Do you know why some people call it FALL? Because that's when the eyeballs fall from the sky! Help him fill his basket.

1. HUNT

Go outside with a grown-up and collect as many acorns as you can find. Parks are full of them.

2. EYEBALL

Draw an eye on every acorn with a marker. Big pupil, tiny pupil, bloodshot red lines...

3. BASKET

Put them all in a bowl or basket. Count them and colour one eyeball below for each.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31	32
33	34	35	36	37	38	39	40

I collected _____ eyeballs for the Boiled One.

FEED HIM BEFORE HE EATS YOU

DOOR
2

Bloody Boiled Biscuits. Makes about 10 hungry little heads. Keep one for yourself... if he lets you.

YOU NEED

- ☐ 100 g soft butter
- ☐ 50 g caster sugar
- ☐ 150 g plain flour
- ☐ red food colouring gel (LOTS)
- ☐ small pretzel sticks, for spikes
- ☐ 20 white chocolate buttons
- ☐ 20 chocolate chips
- ☐ chocolate spread, for the big black mouth

DO THIS

- 1 Grown-up: heat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan). Line a baking tray with baking paper.
- 2 Squish the butter and sugar together with a spoon until soft. Add red colouring until it looks boiled.
- 3 Tip in the flour and squeeze it all together with your hands into a red dough.
- 4 Roll 10 balls and squash them into wonky head shapes on the tray. Push your thumb in for a big screaming mouth.
- 5 Poke 4 or 5 pretzel spikes into the top of each head.
- 6 Bake for 12 to 14 minutes. Grown-up takes them out. Let them cool on the tray for 10 minutes.
- 7 Fill each mouth with chocolate spread. Stick on two white buttons with a dab of spread and press a chocolate chip in the middle of each eye.

Gel colouring gives a much redder biscuit than liquid colouring. Pale edges are fine: he likes them a bit underdone.

DRAW HIM A SCARY FRIEND

DOOR
3

The Boiled One is lonely. Draw him a SUPER scary friend in the empty space. Give it spikes, teeth, too many eyes... whatever you like. Then colour them both in.

← your monster goes here
(the scarier the better)

My monster is called: _____

HAHAHAHA! GROSS JOKES

DOOR
4

Cut out the cards. Read the question to a friend, wait... then hit them with the answer. Laugh like the Boiled One: HAHHAHAHA!

Why is the Boiled One so red? → He forgot to get out of the bath.	Why didn't the Boiled One eat the clown? → He tasted funny.
What's the Boiled One's favourite pudding? → I-scream.	What did one eyeball say to the other eyeball? → Between you and me, something smells.
What does the Boiled One put on his pizza? → Toe-mato sauce and eye-talian cheese.	What's worse than finding a worm in your apple? → Finding HALF a worm.
What's the difference between broccoli and bogeys? → Kids don't eat broccoli.	What's the Boiled One's favourite game? → Hide and SHRIEK.
Why don't skeletons ever fight each other? → They haven't got the guts. (The Boiled One has loads.)	Knock knock. Who's there? Boo. Boo who? → Don't cry, he only wants a biscuit.
How does the Boiled One keep his breath fresh? → He gargles with swamp water.	Why was the Boiled One's nose so tired? → It had been running all day.
What does the Boiled One eat for breakfast? → Scream of Wheat with a side of toe-st.	Why did the Boiled One sit in the toilet? → It's the only throne that fits him.

BOILED ONE MEMORY

DOOR
5

Glue this page onto thin card and cut along the dashed lines: 18 cards, 9 pairs. Shuffle them face down. Turn over two. Same face? Keep them! Most pairs wins.

HEAD / FACE
(front)

HEAD BACKING
(plain – for strength)

FINISHED EXAMPLE

BODY (FRONT)

BODY (BACK)

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Cut out all pieces
2. Glue body around a cardboard tube (toilet roll)
3. Attach face and head backing
4. Glue on arms and spikes
5. Add base if needed

ARMS (2 PIECES)

SPIKES (VARIOUS SIZES)

BASE (OPTIONAL)

Cut out and slot together for a stand

BASE SUPPORT (OPTIONAL)

Fold and glue (makes a cross).
Or glue figure to a cardboard tube instead.

EXTRA TABS (OPTIONAL)

Use if you need extra support for arms or spikes.

RYAAN'S SPOOKY GARLAND

CUT ALONG THE DASHED LINES, PUNCH THE TWO HOLES, THREAD ON A STRING.

THE BOILED BOP

DOOR
8

Learn the Boiled One's dance. It's Halloween: time for a dance party! Press play on the countdown page and do the moves in order. Then play Freeze Bop with everyone!

1 · NECK WOBBLE

Your head is too heavy. Wobble it slowly left... right... left... right.

2 · SPIKE HANDS

Stiff fingers up high. Poke the sky like spikes. Poke, poke, poke!

3 · SILENT SCREAM

Hands on cheeks, mouth as WIDE as it goes. No sound allowed!

4 · SWAMP SHUFFLE

Your feet are stuck in goo. Slide one foot, drag the other. Squelch!

5 · THE BOIL

Bounce on the spot. Faster... faster... like a pot about to boil over!

6 · BIG LAUGH

Throw your head back and laugh: HAHAAAAHA! Then start again from move 1.

FREEZE BOP

One person runs the music. Everyone does the Boiled Bop. When the music stops, FREEZE like a statue. Wobble or giggle and you're out. Last one standing becomes the Boiled One!